Finance & Accounting:

The Growth Function Businesses Miss Out On

According to a recent Paro study, senior finance executives overwhelmingly agree that the finance and accounting function is a critical business growth center, but they aren't investing accordingly.

There is a clear gap between that awareness and the ability to harness and deploy a talent strategy that allows businesses to grow to their full potential.

OUT OF 500 FINANCE & ACCOUNTING EXECUTIVES

agree that finance & accounting is essential for business growth

24%

say growth is why their company invests in finance & accounting

FUNCTIONS THAT HAVE THE GREATEST OPPORTUNITIES

52%

Finance

RESPONDED

49% RESPONDED

Operations

(Including People Management)

46% RESPONDED

Accounting

Key Challenges That Inhibit Business Growth

MAIN OBSTACLES TO BUSINESS GROWTH

40% RESPONDED

Combating market changes

RESPONDED Staffing / Hiring /

39%

Retention

Lack of bandwidth to take 38%

TOP 3 CHALLENGES EXECUTIVES FACE

36%

Responding to investor demands

Lack of strategic advisory for decision-making

on new opportunities

34%

Growth & Maintain Stability

surges or expand solutions offerings

protect against marketplace volatility

Leaders Seek Flexible Models to Drive

53%

consider flexible staffing/resourcing as a step to

are open to increasing headcount to take advantage of

69% of finance & accounting teams rely on fractional resources in some way

36%

full-time & fractional professionals

33%

rely entirely on rely on a mix fractional professionals

Learn how Paro can help your business grow with flexible finance

& accounting expertise.

* The 2022 Paro Financial Maturity Study was conducted by Wakefield Research (www.wakefieldresearch.com) among 500 U.S. Senior Finance Executives between June 6th and June 15th, 2022, using an email invitation and an online survey.